Exploring Foreign Options for Summer

<http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/tc/foreignsummer>

Planning to study outside of North America this summer?* Uncertain whether the institution and/or courses will be recognized for transfer credit? If you have these questions this site is designed for you!

The Transfer Credit Section (TCS) is providing this service to take some of the uncertainty out of your plans. By completing the information below, the TCS will provide you with information on recognition of the institution and potential transfer credit. Please note that the TCS will not be reviewing your academic transcript or identifying any of the caveats regarding eligibility of post-admission transfer credit. Policies associated with post-admission transfer credit can be found here and are the responsibility of the student.

NOTE: As a publicly-funded institution, the University of Toronto refers to The Department of Foreign Affairs, Trade and Development (DFATD) to assess the risks associated with a particular country. These DFATD country advisories put a country or region into one of four categories:

Exercise normal security precautions.

Exercise a high degree of caution.

Avoid non-essential travel.

Avoid all travel.

The Safety Abroad Guidelines permit all students to go to level 1 and 2 countries. However, travel to countries that fall into levels 3 or 4 is restricted to graduate students and, even in these situations, a student must make a strong case to be granted permission to travel to higher risk destinations under the auspices of the University. Advisories are updated daily and available on the DFATD website.

The Faculty is willing to allow for transfer credits to be considered from the program noted below for 2017Summer. We are not in a position to consider transfer credit for ACCT111 – Financial Accounting as you have already completed a similar course in this Faculty

PHIL101 will transfer as PHL1H with course exclusion to PHL100Y/101Y/201H

ART101 will transfer as FAH1H with course exclusion to be determined

The MATH122 is being considered. Once a decision is made you will be notified.
